

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

SEMINAR SERIES

S
P
R
I
N
G

2
0
0
7

January 18, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall.

Kathleen McKinney, Illinois State University:

“Student Perspectives on Learning our Discipline: Implications for Practice”

February 1, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall.

Barry Schwartz, University of Georgia:

“Collective Memory and the Symbolic Power of Oneness: The Strange Apotheosis of Rosa Parks”

February 8, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall

Ray Muhammad, University of Illinois Department of Sociology:

“Depression among Young Adult Fathers; Exploring the Role of Family Status and Relationship Quality”

February 15, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall.

Susan Watkins, University of Pennsylvania:

“Hearsay Ethnography: Capturing Collective Life”

March 2, Friday 10:00 to 11:20 pm. Location: 130 Wohlers Hall (jointly organized with Organizational Behavior and Theory & Age of Networks Seminar Series)

Peter Marsden, Harvard University:

“Factors Affecting Influential Discussions Among Physicians: A Social Network Analysis of a Primary Care Practice”

March 15, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall.

Susan McDaniel, University of Windsor:

“Generations and Generationing in Families, Labour Markets and Welfare States: Ageing Policy in Canada, France and Britain”

April 5, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall.

Robin Stryker, University of Minnesota

“Redefining Compassion to Reform Welfare: How Supporters of the 1990s US Welfare Reform Aimed for the Moral High Ground”

April 19, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall.

Colin Samson, University of Essex:

“The Quests of Indigenous People to Maintain Cultural Continuity: Benefits of Hunting Lifestyles among the Innu of Canada”

May 3, Thursday 3:00 to 4:20 pm. Location: 336 Lincoln Hall.

Alejandro Portes, Princeton University:

Annual Florian Znaniecki Lecture:

“Transnational Immigrant Organizations and National Development: A Conceptual Analysis”

Please visit www.soc.uiuc.edu for information.