HAPPENINGS

ALAN M. HALLENE LECTURE | The Hoeft Technology & Management Program presents Jeff Jackson, Senior VP of General Counsel at State Farm on Oct 16 at 4:30pm in the Alice Campbell Alumni Center. The lecture discusses "How to Survive in Business, When others are breaking the rules... or the law."

KIVA MICROFINANCE EVENT: "MICRO LOANS, MACRO IMPACT" | Entrepreneurs Without Borders will be co-hosting a conference with the National Organization of Business and Engineering (NOBE) on Oct 4 from 11am-5pm with keynote speaker, David Mulligan of KIVA.org. Go to <http://nobenational.org/illinois/special/kiva.html>, click on the event image at the bottom right, and register through the website to attend. This event is geared towards raising awareness for microfinance and its success in developing countries. We have also established a legacy fund that will continually donate to funding entrepreneurs through KIVA.org. We hope to raise $10,000 through corporate sponsorship and student donations, so we have set registration to a minimum $1 donation.

HOMECOMING WEEK | The Student Alumni Ambassadors have planned several fun events for Homecoming Week this year, Oct 4-11. The week begins on Oct 4 with iHelp, a homecoming volunteer project that brings together hundreds of students from across campus. That evening is the Homecoming Kick-Off event. We will be closing down Green St. and hosting a live concert, food specials, give-a-ways, and the chance to break a world record as a university! Tues, Oct 7 is our annual Lunch on the Quad, and the week culminates with the university parade and pep rally on Fri, Oct 10. For more info, and to register for iHelp, visit www.illinois.edu/homecoming. See you there and remember to "Feel the 'Nois!"
